This is how it was, that fearful June 6, 1944.

Four men, each of whom lived several lifetimes that D-Day 15 years ago, tell about it in a memorable four-part series starting in The Gettysburg Times next Tuesday, June 2.

The contributors are Don Whitehead, double Pulitzer Prize winner who hit Normandy with the infantry as an AP war correspondent; Maj. Gen. J. Lawton "Lightnin' Joe" Collins, who led his 7th Corps in the capture of Utah Beach; Horst Fluegge, a lieutenant in the German artillery, now on the AP staff in Germany; and G. K. Hodenfield, AP education writer who served as a combat correspondent with Stars and Stripes.

The first article is by Whitehead, to be followed by Collins, Fluegge and Hodenfield.

"The Bivouac Of The Honored Dead"

White against the green of well-kept grass, shaded by trees that have grown majestic since the cemetery was established 96 years ago, these silent stones mark the last resting place in the Gettysburg National Cemetery of men who gave their lives in World War II. More than 700 graves are occupied by veterans of the Spanish War, First and Second World War and the Korean conflict on the outer areas of the cemetery. In its center are the graves of 3,075 Civil War dead, whom Lincoln honored with his Gettysburg Address in 1863. The graves of the World War II and other war dead were strewn with flowers this afternoon by Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and others while the school children placed flowers on the graves of Civil War dead.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFER TAX ENACTED HERE

A resolution formally adopting a real estate transfer tax of one per cent for the Gettysburg borough school district was adopted by unanimous vote of the school board members at a special meeting at the high school building Friday evening.

At the regular Meeting of the board when the directors decided first on the property transfer tax, it was estimated that it will bring in about $16,000 a year on the basis of figures some of the directors had secured from the court house.

The vote on the property transfer resolution will allow the new levy to go into effect July 6, the board members said.

Action on the property transfer tax was the only business transacted Friday evening but the board will gather again on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the office of the superintendent of schools for the regular June meeting.

On Monday's agenda will be final action on the proposed $425,055 budget, an increase of about $80,000 over that for the current year.

To meet these increased costs, the directors at their May meeting decided to boost the real estate tax by six mills and to increase the head tax levy by $2.50. The new millage will be 42 mills and head and residence taxes will total $12.50 next year for all taxable residents of the borough.

Geneva Meet Stalemated Over Berlin Difference

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers today looked to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for the word that could lift the Berlin crisis and clear the way to a summit conference.

Secret talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko have so far failed to remove the Berlin issue as a barrier to a heads-of-government meeting.

But Western officials think it likely that Gromyko will get new instructions before the Big Four foreign ministers conference here ends.

Less than 48 hours after going into secret negotiations, the ministers were headed back today to the semipublic stage in the Palace of Nations at the request of the Soviets.

Expect New Demand

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his British and French allies expect a new demand by Gromyko for Western troops to get out of West Berlin.

JUDGE WON'T COMMENT ON PARKER CASE

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Circuit Court Judge Sebe Dale, who would have tried lynch victim Mack Charles Parker, said Friday he has decided not to comment on Gov. J. P. Coleman's decision to hold the FBI report on the case until the regular session of the grand jury in November.

His first reaction, Dale said, was that Coleman was unwise in deciding against a special grand jury. The judge said waiting until the regular session could give the accused a chance to learn who they are and allow them to leave the state.

Dale made the comments in calling for an end to "piecemeal leaks" from government sources on the Parker lynching.

Ought To Stop Leaks
"If the government has turned over all its evidence to Gov. Coleman, then it ought to stop these piecemeal leaks and not try the case in the newspapers," he said.

He said he could not condone the purported detail of the FBI report on the case given to the press by "authoritative government sources."

The sources said the evidence contained the names of Parker's killers and a description of a farmyard meeting where the raid allegedly was planned.

Dale said that information should have gone only to the district and county prosecutors for presentation to the grand jury.

Parker, 23, a Negro truck driver from Lambert was accused of raping a pregnant white woman last February. He was dragged from his jail cell here before dawn April 25, two days before he was to go on trial in Dale's court. Parker's body was found in the Pearl River May 4. He had been shot.

The judge said he has never condoned lynching. But had the victim been a member of his own family, Dale said, he was fearful he might have killed the attacker himself.

TO ORGANIZE CLUB
A 4-H Community Club will be organized Friday at 8 p.m. at the home of Francis Timlin, R. 2, Duane G. Duncan, assistant county farm agent, announced. "We urge you, as parents, to come and bring or urge any of your boys or girls between 10 and 20 years of age to come and discuss the 4-H program, objectives and benefits," Duncan said.

HELD FOR COURT
Herbert N. Decker, Hanover, was committed to Adams County jail in default of $500 bail required for his appearance June 8 in Adams County court to answer to a charge of desertion and non-support. Decker was arrested on a complaint of his wife, Elizabeth M. Decker, Gettysburg R. 4, filed with Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

MESCALERO, N. M. (AP) — For the first time in the known history of the Mescalero Apaches, a woman has become tribal sachem.

Amiable Mrs. Virginia Klinekole this year became the first woman president of the Apache Tribe of the Mescalero Reservation.

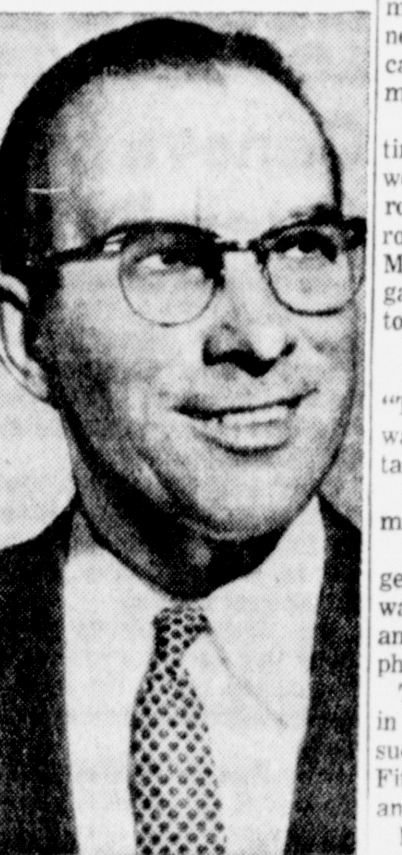

Mrs. Klinekole, serving a one-year term, is a native of the reservation and has lived on it all her life with the exception of years spent away at school at Haskell Institute in Lawrence, Kan. Her husband is a rancher in Three Rivers village and they have three children.

"I was greatly surprised upon being elected president," said Mrs. Klinekole. "I am greatly honored that my people hold me worthy of this position."

Mrs. Klinekole is not what most people think of as an "Indian chief." Among most New Mexican Indians, the "chief" was a leader whose power came from his skill in war. There is no modern counterpart.

The Mescalero tribe consists of about 800 Mescaleros, about 400 Chiracahuas and a few Lipans. The majority speak and read English but all can speak the native Apache tongue.

BETTER TO DIE FIGHTING FOR CAUSE: FAUBUS

ATHENS, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas told an audience here Friday it is better to die fighting for some causes than to rule the world "on any other basis."

"Some say I am fighting for a lose cause," Faubus said. "But if honesty, integrity, neighborliness and sanctity of the marriage vows and the church are lost causes, then all is lost."

Faubus addressed a crowd gathered for the Old Fiddlers Reunion. The Athens Review said the crowd, numbering in the thousands, cheered Faubus frequently.

For Rights Of People
The Arkansas governor told his audience, "I fight for the right of the people to manage their own affairs. Each community and state should know best what its own problems are."

"We must fight so that what the Supreme Court is trying to destroy will remain sacred," he declared. "I believe we can win."

At a news conference preceding the speech, Faubus said the Little Rock election which recalled three segregationists from the city's school board is not a mandate for integration.

Faubus backed the three ousted members.

STAFF TAKES "REFRESHER"

State and county office personnel of the Farmers' Home Administration in Pennsylvania attended the fifth annual farm and office management conference at the Pennsylvania State University, University Park on Wednesday and Thursday.

The purpose of the conference was to give a refresher course in farm management practices, and improve office management routines in all of the county offices to provide better services to farm families. The Agricultural Extension Service of the Pennsylvania State University provided the instructions and training for the refresher courses in farm management.

One of the features of the conference was a banquet and the presentation of a certificate of merit to Mr. and Mrs. George L. Chick, Perkaskie R. 2. This certificate was awarded for outstanding achievement on the farm, in the home and in service to their community.

The principal addresses were given by William L. Henning, Pennsylvania secretary of agriculture, and C. Wilder Smith, assistant administrator of the Farmers Home Administration.

The Farmers' Home Administration program in Pennsylvania is administered by George M. Hummer, state director. The functions of agency are to make operating, real estate, soil and water conservation and farm housing loans to eligible farm families who cannot obtain assistance from other sources.

Personnel of the local FHA office, located in the Adams Electric Co-operative Building here, attended the conference.

DESIGN DRESS FOR TAN LINE

DETROIT (AP) — A dress designer who neither draws nor sews. That's Mrs. George Dickey of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Mrs. Dickey hasn't sewn a stitch in her life. She has no training in drawing. Yet tennis clothes she designed are carried in more and more stores every year.

Mrs. Dickey is a tennis enthusiast. She once wore the usual V-necked blouses and go the usual V-necked tan.

"I'd play tennis in the sun all morning—then put on a round-neck-lined dress for dinner. You can imagine how that looked with my V-shaped tan," she said.

Mrs. Dickey said that at that time no U-shaped tennis clothes were available. So she tried a rough sketch ("It was very rough") and sent it to her sister, Mrs. Mary Christopher, of Morgantown, W. Va., who knows how to sew.

"Tanline" Neck
The finished dress—with the "Tanline" neck, lined bodice, fitted waist and full skirt—became the talk of her tennis playing set.

She persuaded her sister to make several for her friends. "Then one day a friend suggested I go into business. He just walked straight to the telephone and made a date with a fashion photographer."

The dress by now is available in crepe and a drip-dry fabric at such stores as Abercrombie and Fitch in New York and Florida and Neiman-Marcus in Dallas.

Mrs. Christopher, with some outside help, still makes the outfits. Mrs. Dickey has no plans for factory production.

"If I did," she said, "I'd have to change my design every year. That thought scares me. I'm not really a designer, you know."

Oranges are considered berries, botanically speaking.

Four persons were killed and two others injured when a car and tractor-trailer collided near Pee Dee, S.C.

Still another multiple-fatality accident saw three high school students returning from a prom burned to death when their car left the road and exploded near East Livermore, Maine.

Round-the-clock patrol work and manpower concentration in traffic danger areas were emphasized in many communities.

Police Give Alerts
Highway patrolmen and local authorities in many states were under a "traffic condition red" alert with warning lights on police cars flashing continuously throughout the weekend.

An Associated Press survey of motor vehicle deaths during a comparable 54-hour weekend, May 15-17, showed a highway fatality count of 262.

The AP survey provided figures for comparing motorist performances on holiday and non-holiday weekends of the same period.

Since World War II, there has been only one other two-day Memorial Day weekend. In 1953, there were 241 traffic deaths in such a weekend. That figure is a record for a two-day observance of the holiday.

Last year, 371 traffic deaths were reported during the three-day Memorial Day period. There also were 132 deaths by drowning and 88 miscellaneous accidents for an over-all tally of 591.

NATION HONORS SOLDIER DEAD OF MANY WARS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Prayer and play mark this 91st annual observance of Memorial Day as the nation pays homage to its dead of five major wars, and the beach and summer resort business gets under way.

From Arlington National Cemetery across the Potomac from our national capital to far-off Hawaii, services were held by veterans and other patriotic groups as well as by relatives of those who died for their country. Hundreds of parades celebrated the occasion.

At Arlington, memorial services were held in the semicircular stone-benched amphitheater. President Eisenhower's wreath at the Tomb of the Unknowns was to be laid by Sumner G. Whittier, administrator of veterans affairs.

Quiet Day For President

The President planned a quiet day at the White House, with no formal activities scheduled.

At Honolulu, children join veterans groups in placing leis on graves of 17,000 graves of World War II and Korean War dead.

Also at Honolulu, the Navy remembers Pearl Harbor dead in ceremonies astride the sunken hulk of the battleship Arizona. The bodies of more than 1,000 officers and men lie entombed in the hull—tragic reminder of the Japanese attack almost 18 years ago.

"Taps" were sounded on the hill at Chateau-Thierry in France, where an American graveyard of World War I overlooks the Marne.

HOLDUP HERO IS ATTACKED BY TWO THUGS

NEW YORK (AP) — Andrew Sambucini, 29, who earlier this week led in the capture of two alleged holdup men, Friday night fought off two thugs who tried to kidnap him.

Sambucini was just about to enter his Brooklyn apartment house when two men got out of a parked car. One man yelled "I'll teach you to be a hero."

The second man brandished a gun and ordered Sambucini to get in the auto.

Sambucini lashed out at his would-be abductors. In the scuffle one shot was fired but he was not hit. However, Sambucini said, one of the men cried out, "I'm shot."

With that, the pair jumped into their car and drove off with a third man at the wheel.

Sambucini notified police, who believe his assailants were friends of ex-convicts Anthony Marciano, 28, and Paul Urano, 30, charged with robbery and held without bail in an attempted payroll hold-up which Sambucini thwarted last Thursday.

On that day, Sambucini, in his car, saw two men leap from an auto and grab a $1,000 payroll from a young woman on a Brooklyn street. Sambucini gave chase and forced the gateway car to the curb. Police then arrested Marciano and Urano.

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government has decided to stop all barter deals in cotton, an official source said today.

"SWEET MUSIC OF PRAYER"

If you like sweet music . . . tender as a summer breeze . . . listen to a child pray . . . and your heart will be at ease . . . for the words that children utter . . . are as soft as milkweed down . . . they soothe the heart and put a smile . . . in place of every frown . . . God listens to the innocent . . . strength dedicated."

The talk by Senator Scott concluded traditional Memorial Day services here, but a Philadelphia group, the Irish Brigade Memorial Association, which took part in the town's May 30 festivities then marched to The Loop where they conducted their own exercises honoring the Irish Brigade dead here.

Senator Scott and his assistant, George Moravin, arrived at the Gettysburg Interchange of the turnpike this morning to be met by the local committee, a police escort, and Congressman James M. Quigley.

The group took time, enroute to Gettysburg, to take a look at parts of the battlefield prior to a luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg at noon.

Annual Ritual Services

This afternoon Senator Scott and the official party viewed the parade as it passed through Lincoln Square enroute to the National Cemetery.

At the cemetery a ritual was presented by the veterans groups; the school children and others strewed flowers on the graves and Post 15, VFW, fired the volley. Taps were sounded by Edward Hughes.

At the Rostrum Congressman Quigley was master of ceremonies. The Gettysburg High School band played both "America" and "Star Spangled Banner." The invocation was by Rev. John Bishop and the benediction by Rev. C. Reynolds Simmons Jr. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was given by U.S. Interstate Commerce Commissioner Donald P. McPherson Jr.

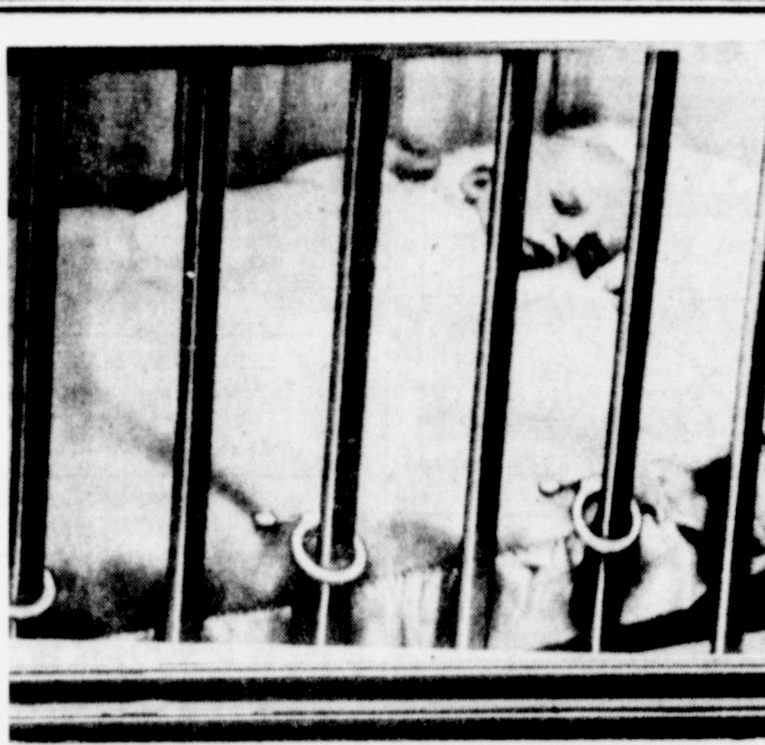

Following the regular service the Irish Brigade Memorial Association, which had participated in the Gettysburg exercises, marched to The Loop for exercises at the Celtic Cross there.

Krajewski said Cohowicz fired a single shot and fled. Police found his body in the woods after an intensive search of the area. Mrs. Cohowicz, a Scranton resi-

America's Space Monkeys To Face Their Public Today

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's two nonchalant space monkeys face their public today.

Newsmen and photographers will stare and pop flash bulbs at Able and Baker at a news conference. Hams that they are, the two should take it all in stride.

The female monkeys, who survived a 1,500-mile trip into space Thursday, exhibited their no-hum attitude Friday night when they arrived here.

Not Indifferent, Just Coy

While newsmen, photographers and military personnel watched them come off a four-engine transport, the monkeys just played and munched food inside their metal cages.

Navy Lt. Thomas F. Hushyn, pilot of the transport, said their seeming indifference was just coyness. He added that during flight, for example, Baker, the smaller of the two, played in the cockpit and posed for pictures at the controls.

"She's actually a ham," Hushyn said.

Had Medical Checkups

Before the public exhibition, the small monkeys underwent a more important scrutiny. Soon after their arrival, doctors began medical checkups to see how well the monkeys fared in their space trip in the nose cone of a Jupiter missile.

The doctors hoped to gain important clues toward maintaining the health of the human Mercury

WAR-HATING PREACHER TO LEAVE PRISON

CINCINNATI (AP)—A war-hating preacher who won't pay his taxes is slated to come home from prison today to an uncertain future.

Leaders of his old church want the Rev. Maurice McCrackin to return to his pulpit at St. Barnabas Church.

And more trouble with the government over nonpayment of income tax and nonfiling of tax returns is possible.

The Rev. McCrackin was released from Allenwood, Pa., federal prison farm Friday after serving five months and four days of a six-month term.

The 53-year-old clergyman is minister of a combined Presbyterian and Episcopal church with a white and Negro congregation.

Refused To Eat

A federal court jury here convicted him last Dec. 12 of failing to answer a summons by the Internal Revenue Service to discuss his taxes.

The minister attracted attention by forcing court aides to carry him in and out of the courtroom, ignoring advice of court-named lawyers and most of the trial procedure. For a time he refused to eat.

The Rev. McCrackin said he filed a tax return in 1948 through 1954 but paid only part of his tax.

After that, he said he filed no return because the government was using his return to figure out what he should have paid in full.

The minister says he will not pay the full amount because the money is used for war weapons.

He was strolling with her daughter, Joan, 14, and her two sons, Bernard, 12, and Wayne, 10, when the attack took place. They reportedly had come to Old Forge for a visit with her family.

Krajewski said Mrs. Cohowicz had filed a complaint about three weeks ago, charging her husband had threatened her with bodily harm.

astronauts when they are orbited around the earth as part of the U.S. space program.

The nose cone carrying the capsules with the monkeys was recovered near Antigua Island in the Atlantic Ocean after the Jupiter missile had been fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Following their medical checks and exhibition, the monkeys will return to their laboratories here to live in retirement.

COUNT 17,000 SERVICEMEN WHO DIED IN PEACE TIME

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cold war, like hot war, has its casualties to be counted on Memorial Day.

More than 17,000 servicemen have been killed in manning and operating the nation's defenses in the "peacetime" years since the end of the Korean conflict.

These are men who died in using the weapons and equipment of defense — planes, ships, tanks, combat vehicles. It does not include the civilian-type fatalities—servicemen killed in highway crashes and other off-duty accidents. Nor does it concern the deaths from disease and illness.

A Few Slain

Military accidents, of course, caused most of the deaths. But a few were slain, as in hot war, by the "potential enemy" when aircraft strayed too close to Communist borders.

These 7,000-plus fatalities occurred in a military force averaging about 2,800,000 men during the years of 1954 through 1958. The rate may not be drastically out of line with the accident rate for a comparable civilian population.

But these men would not have died in the manner they died if they had not accepted the mission of the airman, sailor or soldier. The casualty list was composed, in far the greater part, of death to crews and occupants of military aircraft. The Air Force total was 3,921, the Navy and Marine Corps 2,963 and the Army 177.

EXCHANGEES ARE FETED AT DINNER HERE

Miss Mari Braaten, foreign exchange student from Norway who has been attending Gettysburg High School, and James Bricker, local student who will visit Finland this summer, were honored at a dinner Thursday evening in the United Church of Christ. The dinner was sponsored by the joint committees of the exchange student program and the Americans Abroad program.

H. Edgar Riegler, superintendent of Gettysburg schools, spoke on the value of the two programs and of the good they have done and can be expected to do.

G. W. Lefever, high school principal, expressed to Miss Braaten thanks for the good she has done while she has been here. "Any student that has known Mari and spoken with her had to come away with something of value," he said.

Will Represent Town

Bricker thanked the committee for its efforts and that he was chosen as the first representative from Gettysburg High School to visit abroad under the program. He said he will do his best to live up to what is expected of him as a representative of Gettysburg and the U. S.

Miss Braaten spoke on "what I have gained while a student here, the wonderful friends I have made and the values taught me. I will never forget Gettysburg," she said, "and would like to return some day, possibly in 1963 to attend the centennial celebration of the Battle of Gettysburg."

She thanked Mr. and Mrs. A. R. LeVan, her American "parents," for their care and friendship while she has been living in their home. She said she had gained another brother in David LeVan and her first sister in Hannah LeVan. She also said "thank you" to the people of Gettysburg "for your courtesy and friendliness toward me."

Each Miss Braaten and Bricker were given a camera and photographic accessories as "bon voyage" gifts.

Osborn Home From Africa, Europe Trip

Paul F. Osborn, Aspers R. 1, and Biglerville businessman, has returned from a nine-week's trip to Africa and Communist Europe.

Osborn left March 19 by jet for London, then flew to Leopoldville in the Belgian Congo. He traveled by river to Stanleyville and spent two weeks in the bush including a period residing in a pigmy camp in the Ituri forest. From there he obtained permission to enter the closed territory of the Karamoja District of Uganda where he met the Karamojohn natives whose principal diet is blood, milk, ants and goat meat. Among the tribe, cows are wealth and a wife costs from 50 to 100 cows. Many have two or more wives. There are 170,000 natives and 650,000 cows in the 10,755-square mile territory.

He then visited in Poland, Czechoslovakia and Russia. In Czechoslovakia and Poland he was permitted to go into the country and visit the peasants as he wished. In Russia he was unable to obtain permission to visit a state farm, but did have an opportunity to visit a monastery 50 miles from Moscow. In Russia he found it difficult to pin anyone down to worthwhile information.

In the other two "Red Curtain" countries he found people talked freely about economics, wages and living conditions.

FALMOUTH, England (AP) — The crippled 9,200-ton Liberian freighter Mitera Marigo, limping into port after a collision, sank early today within sight of land. The Greek crew of 32 abandoned the ship without casualties.

The Mitera Marigo was badly damaged in a collision with the 10,600-ton German freighter Fritz Thyssen off the north coast of France Friday. The German ship was undamaged.

The opening and closing program was led by Senior Patrol Leader, John Farrell.

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Order was reported restored to Portoviejo today after 90 army draftees were joined by civilians in a mutiny that killed five and wounded 50.

Defense Minister Gustavo Diez said the conscripts rebelled in protest against the harsh discipline of army Capt. Galo Quevedo.

Quevedo, 37, was killed in the fighting and his body was dragged through the streets.

TOKYO (AP) — Red China warned today that events in Laos and U.S. activities in Indochina could have "grave consequences" for peace in Southeast Asia and the Far East.

Peiping radio broadcast the statements in a "warning to the reactionaries of Thailand."

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Order was reported restored to Portoviejo today after 90 army draftees were joined by civilians in a mutiny that killed five and wounded 50.

Defense Minister Gustavo Diez said the conscripts rebelled in protest against the harsh discipline of army Capt. Galo Quevedo.

Quevedo, 37, was killed in the fighting and his body was dragged through the streets.

TOKYO (AP) — Red China warned today that events in Laos and U.S. activities in Indochina could have "grave consequences" for peace in Southeast Asia and the Far East.

5 Young Men Fined For Morals Offenses

Five young men involved in a morals case Thursday were fined $200 and costs each by Judge James E. Boylan Jr. in the Circuit Court for Carroll County at Westminster.

The court's action followed earlier hearings during which the state dropped other charges when the defendants pleaded guilty to assault. Fined were George Wayne Nelson, Charles Burton Turner 3rd, Ernest Jeris Fredrikes and Carroll Eugene Koontz, of near Taneytown, and Larry Gladhill, near Gettysburg.

Cases tried Tuesday in the Circuit Court for Carroll County required the full day, with Chief Judge James E. Boylan Jr. presiding.

James M. Carr Jr., near Taneytown, was tried by a jury on a morals offense and on the instructions of the court the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

GHS Alumni

applause and more laughter with their unusual greetings. With James Sneeringer as spokesman, class statistics and observation by Sneeringer were greeted by responses in chorus from the 25 classmates present from among the 113 that graduated.

Charles Kranias spoke for the class of '44 with 38 of its original members on hand.

Bruce Westerdahl spoke for the big reunion class of 1949 which numbered 143 at graduation, the largest ever sent out by the school in any year. He used a statistical pamphlet prepared by Mary Jane Svarnas Toggas in his report that showed the class has produced 195 children to date.

Miss Marcia Hoy responded for the fifth anniversary class of 1954 which had 32 there from its original 113.

Early in the program the invocation was given by the Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, St. James Lutheran pastor and member of the class of 1925. Two copies of the 1959 yearbook were presented to the alumni association by its editor, Shirley Chronister. President Folkenroth said the alumni files lack copies of the annals for 1920, 1923, 1925, 1928, 1930 and 1932.

Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegler and Dr. R. D. Wickham, president of the Gettysburg Joint School Board, were introduced and spoke briefly as did Dr. L. C. Keefeauver, former superintendent of schools and honorary member of the association.

These alumni officers were introduced: Mrs. Bracey, secretary; Mr. Stahl, as retiring treasurer; J. M. Sheads, Miss M. Helen Spangler and Miss Alice Williams as statisticians, and chairmen of the various alumni committees.

There was a rising vote of thanks to President Folkenroth for his two years of service at the head of the association.

The post-banquet dance in the gymnasium opened with a grand march. Music was by the Roy Gibbons orchestra. Guests were invited to the dance. The banquet was limited to alumni.

The high school cafeteria staff under Mrs. Alice Lower served a turkey dinner topped off with strawberry shortcake.

Sheets of statistics prepared by Mr. Sheads showing that since 1887 the high school has graduated 4,455 students were distributed. He listed the graduates by years and by school buildings. He also listed all of the principals' names starting with Calvin Hamilton at High Street school from 1879 to 1889. The first Meade school principal was J. Dorsey Hunter who served from 1891 to 1901; W. I. Book from 1901 to 1909; W. A. Burgoon from 1909 to 1915; Helen L. Cope, 1915 to 1918; Walter D. Reynolds, 1918 to 1926, and G. W. Lefever since 1926.

Ciudad Trujillo in the Dominican Republic was nearly leveled by a hurricane in 1930.

SEoul (AP) — A Seoul newspaper reported today that a group of North Korean soldiers attacked a South Korean army post along the central front early Friday morning.

The newspaper Hankook Ilbo said one South Korean soldier was killed and three others wounded. It said Communist casualties were not known.

The United Nations Command publicity office said it had no information on the reported attack.

TEN YEARS AGO

340 High School Alumni Set New Record At 47th Anniversary Event Friday: Three hundred and forty Gettysburg high school alumni, the largest number of them ever to gather for any alumni event — renewed memories and school-day friendships with the spotlight on a dozen reunion classes Friday evening at their 47th anniversary banquet and dance at the high school building.

With graduates coming from points as far distant as California, the alumni received greetings from the anniversary classes, presented the annual alumni scholarship awards, heard a few speeches and enjoyed a baked ham dinner.

The $15 first prize for scholastic attainment went to Jane Deardorff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Deardorff, Carlisle street, and the $10 second prize was awarded to Joyce Fisel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Fisel, Gettysburg R. 3. The presentations were made by Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler, chairman of the awards committee.

Rename Bixler President Of Warner Board: C. A. Bixler, New Oxford, was re-elected president of the Annie M. Warner hospital at the organization meeting of the board of directors Friday evening in the board room at the hospital.

John A. Hauser, Biglerville, and Carl A. Baum, Gettysburg, were again elected vice presidents and Rev. Mark E. Stock and Henry M. Scharf of Gettysburg were returned to their respective offices as treasurer and secretary.

Wilbur A. Bankert and William V. Sneeringer, of Littlestown; John S. Brown, Fairfield; C. P. Keefe, New Oxford; Howard Musselman, Orrtanna, and William Durbarow were other directors re-elected.

John W. Bream, Cashtown, was elected to a three-year term to replace Daniel Mickley, also of Cashtown, who recently resigned. Richard A. Brown, Esq., of Gettysburg, was elected to fill the unexpired term ending May 1951 of the late Charles H. Smith of Gettysburg.

Dr. Heldt Makes Hole-In-One: Dr. C. H. Heldt, local osteopath, became the first golfer to make a hole-in-one on the Gettysburg Country club golf course. He smashed a hard drive with a number three iron for 160 yards on the number two hole Thursday afternoon. It is a par three hole.

With Doctor Heldt were Robert Hartley, Dr. Robert Lefever, Dr. J. C. Donley and Thomas Keenan, York. "I've been playing golf for 26 years and this is the first time I've ever made a hole-in-one," said Doctor Heldt.

Cooler May 30 On Record Here: Today's Low 40: The mercury dropped to within eight degrees of the freezing mark in Gettysburg this morning and thereby set an all-time low record for frigidty on May 30.

This morning's low reading of 40 degrees never has been equaled since complete weather records were initiated here in 1904.

Donald March Wins Tractor Driving Meet: Donald March, Gettysburg R. 3, a student at the Upper Adams County Joint High School, was judged the winner of the first annual tractor driving elimination contest for FFA members of Adams and Franklin counties held Saturday morning at Biglerville.

Gettysburg Pays Homage To Soldier Dead Of Many Wars: C. E. Rankin, Gettysburg, today held its 81st Memorial observance. With flags flying and marching bands and commemorative services Gettysburg carried out once again the traditional observance that started in 1868 when members of the local Grand Army of the Republic first marched to the National Cemetery here to memorialize their fellow comrades-in-arms.

Today's Talk

WHERE IS GOD?
I glance into the perfect evidence of spring, and I see God in every new leaf, in the tiny little white and blue flowers that grow by the million across the country. I see beauty everywhere, and the great trees are majestic as they reach high toward the blue of the sky and the gold of the sun.

I came across this quotation from one of the small books by the late Christopher Morley. He said: "Men talk of 'finding God,' but no wonder it is difficult. He is hidden in that darkest of hiding places, your own heart. You yourself are a part of Him."

When we learn how God distributes Himself, it is easy to believe He is in the world, and that He chooses to live in human beings, whom He created in the first place. God is the one who arranged this world, and set it to motion. If you think that there is a greater one than God, try to find the truth, for the truth can be found in all life, even in the smile of a child.

Who gives us the beautiful green grass in the glorious springtime? Who tells the birds when to come to our northern clime? Who tells the wild violets when to seek the sun and when to give our their first fragrance to the air that we breathe?

God is everywhere. He watches every bird as it selects its own home. And he tells these birds just when to start their habitual songs. What a wonderful thing it would be if we could interpret those songs! I walked in my garden today and tried to talk with a beautiful bird—a bluebird, I think. Two cardinals made a call and I welcomed them to my little spring, below the gum tree, where a little wren used to own it as her home. God watches over all His realm. Give your heart to Him!

Just Folks

MEMORIAL DAY
Some lived the battle through,
Some in its carnage fell
And left to me and you
Their stirring tales to tell.
Long grows the noble roll
On history's cherished scroll.
Not to the evil thing
From which our heroes rose
Today our flowers we bring.
We come remembering those
Who dared to fight and die
Our liberty to buy.

These are our heroes' graves
Where they in glory sleep
Above the mall there waves
The flag they died to keep,
And in the joy now ours
We come with memory's flowers.

Not to the roar of guns
Or sabres' cut and swing,
But to our hero sons
May blossoms now we bring.
God grant that never more
Need cannon flash and roar.

A Bit Of History About
The Frederick Forster Murder

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

"Black's Graveyard"
The historical and genealogical study of Black's (Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian) Burial Ground is continued at this time.

In listing the inscriptions from the grave markers remaining in this graveyard the name of Hosack (or Hosack) is, at the present time, to be found on only one marker. Not too many years ago there must have been quite a good few markers identifying the graves of this family for the Hosacks were an old and prominent clan in this section. Time, the great obliterator, has left little trace of these early graves. John Hosack, who died February 19, 1789, at the age of 56 years, alone remains to remind future generations that his people were pioneers west of the Susquehanna.

According to records on file in the Land Office, Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs, John and Thomas Hosack, who were probably brothers, had taken up land and made improvements in the Manor of Masque before March 1740. On April 22, 1765 both John and Thomas Hosack received warrants for their respective tracts from the Penns, the former for 150 acres, the latter for 300 acres.

Incorporated In 1787
Upper Marsh Creek Church (Presbyterian) was incorporated September 13, 1787. The first trustees elected after this event were as follows:—

1. David McClellan
2. John Hosack
3. James Johnston
4. Quintin Armstrong
5. Michael Kincaid
6. William McPherson
7. Joshua Russell
8. William McClellan
9. John Ross

On October 4, 1793, among those appointed to collect dues in this congregation, the name of William Hosack is listed. In 1801 Henry Hosack made a contribution "toward fencing the graveyard." By 1813, however, the name had disappeared from the membership rolls of the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian congregation. Apparently younger members of the family followed the western frontier as did so many of the Scotch.

Married In 1809
In the files of the "Adams Centinel" the following data on the Hosack family is to be found under the dates given.

1. Wednesday, March 29, 1809—March 13, 1809, by the Rev. David McConaughy, Mr. Thomas Hosack, of Mercer County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Margaret Johnston, of this County (Adams County, Pennsylvania)."

Note:—Probably a grandson of either John or Thomas Hosack, pioneer settlers in the Manor of the Masque, who emigrated to Mercer County, Pennsylvania, but returned to marry a "local girl." The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church.

2. Wednesday, November 29, 1809 — "Married, November 21, 1809, by (name of minister not given), Mr. Robert Black, of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Sally Hosack, of Franklin County, Pennsylvania."

Weds Henry Hosack
Note:—Very early in the history of the Marsh Creek settlement Margaret Black, sister of Robert Black, and the daughter of John Black, married Henry Hosack, Robert, the son of Robert and Sarah Black, married Mary Hosack, so there were at least two Black-Hosack intermarriages before Robert Black married Sally Hosack in 1809.

Regarding this interrelationship it is interesting to note at this time that the last remaining stone bearing the Hosack name in Black's Graveyard is to be found in the Black family plot.

Died In 1809
The next grave listed in Black's Graveyard is not marked and its exact location is not known at the present time. In the "Adams Centinel" for Wednesday, February 15, 1809, the following obituary appeared:—

Thursday.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Bernard C. Weiss, 67, who recently retired as vice president and director of Alabama Power Co., died Thursday of a heart ailment.
ATCHISON, Kan. (AP) — Emma Crawford, 85, mother of Howard E. Crawford, General Motors Corp. sales director, died Thursday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eliot Wadsworth, 82, assistant secretary of Treasury under President Harding and prominent in the American Red Cross, died Wednesday after a long illness.

"Papers Must Serve Man, Not State," McGill

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph McGill, winner of this year's Pulitzer Prize for editorial writing, said Friday that newspapers "must never forget they serve man—not a state."

McGill, editor of the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, made the statement in the fourth annual Joseph Pulitzer memorial lecture prepared for Columbia University's graduate school of journalism.

He completed his 30th year with the Atlanta Constitution this month.

Role In The Future
He discussed the role of newspapers in the future. He said America's current population is about 173 million but by the year 2000—only 41 years away—"We'll have a population of about 353 million. What will that mean to schools, churches, newspapers, and government, local and federal?"

Despite possible changes in other fields, "news must always constitute the body of a newspaper," McGill said.

"Newspapers can't be any better than the people who get them out. In fact, newspapers ARE the people who produce them. Something of the men and women who work on them gets into the paper — some of their mind, some of their personality, their faith, or lack of it, some of their compassion or apathy, some of their sensitivity or brittle sophistication, and beauty—or lack of it," he said.

Newspaper Has A Soul
"This is why we say that a newspaper has a soul. It is a bit more, that statement. But it is true."

The Atlanta editor admitted that "the faults of today's journalism are many," but added that "it is the best we've ever had from the standpoint of responsibility. I say that even though frequently my gorge rises over abuses of that duty."

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has accused Iran of trying to make working conditions impossible for Soviet Embassy personnel in Tehran. In a note to the Iranian ambassador, the Kremlin accused Iranian police of arresting without cause two embassy workers who delivered Soviet reading matter.

In Paris, the Shah of Iran told a news conference his country wants friendly ties with the Soviet Union, but his people would rather die than become slaves.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Algerian rebels said Friday the Algerian liberation army killed 613 French soldiers and wounded 278 in 195 military actions with French forces during the period May 14-25. The Algerian Provisional Government communique said nine French soldiers deserted and joined rebel ranks.

mentioned in John Edie's obituary was located in the first block of North Washington Street, on the west side, beginning at the alley, with a frontage as far as the railroad and extending back for a full block. All the bodies had been removed from this plot by 1865.

5. Wednesday, June 27, 1827—"Died, Wednesday evening, June 20, 1827, Mr. John Edie, of this Borough (Gettysburg), in the 35th year of his age."

Note:—Probably a son of General John Edie, whose obituary was given above. The grave of John Edie was, without a doubt, in the Presbyterian Churchyard, Gettysburg, near that of his father.

These notes on the families buried in Black's Graveyard (Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian) will be continued next week.

TREASON, WARMED OVER
The Roger Casement Trial Is Revived;
Efforts to Salvage Dull Story With Sex

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior
ROGER CASEMENT had a brief day in tall headlines forty years ago.

Except for some black bound diaries that contain shockingly lurid passages, he would today be forgotten; ranking perhaps a shade higher than Joyce, whose broadcasts for Germany in World War II earned him the derisive title of Lord Haw-Haw, plus a drop from the gallows, for treason.

But there was nothing phony about Sir Roger Casement's listing in the Peerage and Honors lists. He was actually knighted in 1911 for his services to the British Empire.

The English annulled his knighthood following the final verdict in London's Old Bailey. But to history he is still Sir Roger Casement.

ROGER CASEMENT was not truly Irish. He was a Protestant Ulsterman, the son of Captain

MOVE TO STOP
OPENING OF
TWO STREETS

An injunction to prevent the burgess and commissioners of Emmitsburg from opening certain so-called streets, to which it is claimed they do not have legal title, is sought in a bill of complaint filed in Equity Court, Frederick, by Dr. and Mrs. George W. Green Jr., Emmitsburg.

Chief Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer signed an order directing the municipality to show cause by June 8 why the injunction should not be issued.

The complainants, through their attorneys, Holden S. Felton and Murray H. Fout, say they are the owners of certain lots shown on a plot of Annapolis, Horner and Co. They say that so-called streets named as Washington and Elm, as laid out on the plan, have never been used by the general public.

The complainants assert the streets were never laid out on the ground, and that there has been no maintenance of them by any public authority or otherwise as streets. Dr. and Mrs. Green and their predecessors in title, it is claimed, for more than 20 years have used and occupied all of "Elm St." and a portion of "Washington St." as a part of their lots and lawns and have spent considerable sums in grass, lawns and shrubbery.

Never Dedicated
They say there was no offer of dedication to the defendants, nor any offer or acceptance by any public authority of the streets so laid out, nor has any public authority ever spent any money on them, maintained them or exercised jurisdiction over them.

The complainants say the burgess and commissioners now claim the legal right to open up the streets, over their protest, for the use of the general public. They say that the town authorities have caused road building equipment to be moved there.

The complainants say they are residents and taxpayers of Emmitsburg and they claim the acts of the defendants are "illegal and arbitrary," alleging that their properties will be "materially affected and damage inflicted upon them" if the corporation is permitted to go ahead with the taking of property for the purpose of opening streets. They ask that the injunction apply against the burgess and commissioners, their agents, employees and contractors and that the opening of the streets be prohibited.

Roger Casement, English Army. Young Roger entered the British consular service and in 1892 was assigned as British commissioner to the then Niger Coast Protectorate, in Africa. In a sweeping, bitter, denunciatory report, dated 11 December 1903, Roger Casement mobilized world opinion for the elimination and extinction of Belgium's Congo Free State.

IN THOSE DAYS anything that restricted some other empire was a good English report. Young Roger Casement was on the way! He became Britain's consul general to Brazil, Rio de Janeiro, 1909. Thence he was ordered to investigate, write another report. It was a jolt to the decadent but still straight-laced Victorian era. His report upon the British incorporated Peruvian Amazon Company, a raw rubber combine, charged the company's agents with "crimes of the most atrocious character."

For this he was knighted. Before anything came of his report, World War I erupted. With thousands dying in Flanders there was little English interest in Amazon Indians. Moreover, Sir Roger Casement, still under fifty, had retired on his pension and honors in 1911, basking in the furor and sensations his reports had temporarily created.

CAME WORLD WAR I and Casement went off the deep end. With no other sensational drum to beat, he saw in Britain's crisis a chance to become a hero for a free, nationalized Ireland.

The South Irish were surprised. Who could expect such erratic ideas from a North Irish Ulsterman. They distrusted him.

So did the German Kaiser's foreign office in Berlin when the retired knight and erstwhile famous British consular officer showed up in Berlin via New York and Sweden.

The Germans thought him a plant; shadowed his every move

British spies in Berlin also reported his activities. Though Sir Roger Casement got German arms for an Irish revolt, he had not a Chinaman's chance to win. He was, nevertheless, too erotically and erratically stupid to know it. He left for Ireland aboard a German submarine.

THE ENGLISH NAVY captured the German arms at sea. The submarine got through but agents caught Casement in South Ireland along with reams of damning documents. These included the Black Diaries.

The English gave Casement the traditional, fair, British trial and hanged him higher than Haman. That is really the end of the Casement story, except for those "Black Diaries." They had little bearing on the case, but are said to have revealed bachelor Sir Roger Casement as a sex deviate and an avid student of shocking aboriginal erotica.

A few Irish patriots loudly charged Britain had officially and maliciously spread the slander of these diaries to discredit a martyr for Irish freedom. British officialdom has greeted these repeated charges with forty years of frosty silence.

NOW COMES FORTH Grove Press with "The Black Diaries: An Account of Roger Casement's Life and Times with a Collection of His Diaries and Public Writings" (530 pages, $7.50), edited by Peter Singleton-Gates. He allegedly came into possession of a transcript of the "Black Diaries" years and years ago.

Don't buy it. If there is anything to this warmed over smut (and some scholars challenge this transcript), this book is just enough to cause the British Foreign Office to issue a "White Paper" that will tell more and will cost you less. If there is no "White Paper" forget the entire business. Casement is hardly worth your book-length consideration.

Penn State Is Heading For IC4A Track And Field Title

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Winning of the IC4A track and field championship appeared to be a mere formality for Penn State today.

But enroute to their third title and their first since 1954, the star-studded Nittany Lions figure to take part in a record-smashing orgy that could eclipse last year's meet when four new marks were written into the meet's 83-year-old books.

With many of the runners reporting the cinder path very fast and the strong men flexing their muscles, there were some who thought as many as six records would fall or be equalled in the 16 championship events.

Tosses Hammer 199 Feet

One went by the boards yesterday when John Lawler, ex-Dublin cop from Boston University tossed the 16-pound hammer 199 feet, 5 1/2 inches in the trials. That was several inches shorter than the performance of the 25-year-old, 220-pound junior, when he won the New England Intercollegiate last week with a throw of 208-3/4.

Another record which had stood so long that it was thought to be untouchable was tied when Dick Edmunds, Princeton sophomore from Glens Falls, N.Y., reeled off 440 yards in 47 seconds.

Only two Olympic champions—Penn's Bill Carr and Pitt's John Woodruff—ever ran the distance that fast in the IC4A championship meet. Carr set the record in 1932 and it was matched three times by long John.

Pitt's Mal Barnwell was only a stride back of Edmunds in 47.3 while Georgetown's Alfred Staebler won his heat in 47.5 with Yale's Jim Stack a stride back in 47.8.

Eyes New Mark

Also ready to be taken from Ron Delany's mile mark of 4:07.8, Ed Moran, who'll try for the difficult 880-mile double in addition running on Penn State's relay team has done 4:02.1 this year.

Penn State's Dick Englebrink has stepped two miles in 8:58.9 this year compared to the meet mark of 9:00.2. And Bob Szeyley of Penn State was within striking distance of the record of 22.8 when he won his heat of the 120-yard high hurdles in 23.2.

Defending champion and record holder Don McGorty of Manhattan just managed to qualify for the javelin finals but Jim Schwab of Penn State tossed the spear 221 feet, 9 inches. McGorty's record is 229-2 1/4.

KILLEBREW IS LEADING HOMER HITTER WITH 17

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Home run statistics in May can be as insignificant as the dust on a dance floor come September, but who can ignore those 17 homers hit by Harmon Killebrew?

Off past performance, Washington's Senators should be in or near the American League cellar and thinking of farmhand Harmon at this stage. Instead, the Nats are fourth and Killebrew leads the majors in home runs, crashing a solo shot Friday in a 7-6 victory over Boston that pushed Washington back into the first division.

With three games left in May Washington's 22-year-old third baseman is within four of tying the major league record for home runs in a single month. The high is 18, set by Detroit's Rudy York in August 1937. Going into the Memorial Day pair at Washington, Killebrew had 14 homers for the month.

Tigers Beat Sox

In the other AL games Friday, Chicago's second place White Sox fell a full game behind idle Cleveland, losing 4-1 to Detroit; and the New York Yankees spilled third-place Baltimore two games back 5-2.

Killebrew, congratulated before the game by President Eisenhower at Griffith Stadium, was 2-for-4 and walked and scored the winning run in the ninth on Hal Naragon's bases-loaded single off losing reliever Murray Lawl (1-3).

Fourth-inning home runs by Al Kaline and Lou Berberet gave Detroit a 2-1 lead that was all Don Mossie (3-2) needed. He gave up five hits. Bob Shaw lost his first in five decisions.

A two-run single by Bill Skowron cracked a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning for the Yankees, once more within a half-game of escaping the cellar. Whitey Ford (5-3) gave up eight hits in beating the Orioles a third time.

TRIO OF TWINS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mrs. Olga Magridge of nearby Blaw Knox just wouldn't be outdone by her two sisters as far as twins are concerned.

Mrs. Magridge gave birth to a set of twins Friday—a boy and a girl. Her twin sister, Mrs. Ruth Dahms of Milwaukee, had twins last March.

Another sister, Mrs. Nancy Barkell of Pittsburgh, also had twins last September.

A four-run first inning enabled the Elks to cop their second straight Little League victory Friday evening, the lodgemen holding on to edge the Gettysburg National Bank 5-3.

Each team collected half a dozen hits with Schultz pounding a double and single to spark the winners.

The fast-stepping Lions kept up their unbeaten string by routing Bream's Garage 9-2. It was the third straight victory for the Lions.

Four runs in top of the fourth and five more in the fifth gave the league-leaders the decision. Britcher, Boyer and King each rapped a pair of safeties for the winners while Treas connected for a single and double for Bream's.

CONVICT MAN OF SLAYING

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—John Bower, 39, of Jersey Shore, was convicted Friday night of first degree murder in the slaying of a retired Allenwood farmer last Jan. 19.

A Union County jury of nine women and three men deliberated two hours before giving its verdict to Judge William L. Showers with a recommendation for life imprisonment.

Bower was charged with slaying Ralph Koch on the latter's 70th birthday. The defendant had insisted during the week-long trial that he was innocent. Koch was beaten over the head with a flashlight when he surprised two intruders in his rural home.

Bower's attorney, W. Roger Fetter of Lewisburg, said he was undecided whether to appeal the conviction.

Bower showed no emotion whatever when he heard the verdict. His wife broke down and wept. Bower was arrested with Laure L. Lovell, also of Jersey Shore, on charges of entering Koch's home. Lovell will stand trial at a later date.

ADCOCK CLUBS BASE ON BALLS PITCH TO WIN

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

When it comes to spectacular hitting, Joe Adcock's your man. The big Milwaukee first baseman was the last slugger to wallop four home runs in one game in the majors, jolting them against the Dodgers back in Brooklyn in 1954.

He also was the only hitter ever to put a home run over the left field stands in Brooklyn's Ebbets Field, back in 1956. Three years earlier he had become the only power guy in a regular scheduled major league game ever to reach the center field seats at New York's Polo Grounds, belting a 475-foot drive.

Then, just last Tuesday, it was Adcock who hit the rib, rule-book double for the Braves' lone hit as they beat Pittsburgh and Harvey Haddix 1-0 in 13 innings.

Snacks Wide Pitch

Friday night, Adcock did it again. This time he reached across the plate to hit a wide pitch as Philadelphia right-hander Gene Conley tried to give him an intentional walk in the ninth. The ball bounced to second base, enabling Hank Aaron to come sliding home for a 6-5 victory that gave Milwaukee a three-game lead in the National League race.

St. Louis took care of the second-place San Francisco Giants 4-2. The Chicago Cubs claimed third place by beating Los Angeles 9-4 after Cincinnati had spilled Pittsburgh 8-5.

The Cubs sent 12 men to the plate for an eight-run fourth inning against Dodger starter Danny McDevitt (3-4) and two relievers. Only two of the runs were earned as the Dodgers committed three of their five errors for the game.

Spring Pasture Will Last Through Summer With Ration Grazing, Ensiling

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

Pasture is the most economical cow feed grown and pasture will be at its peak in quality (as high as 70 per cent TDN) until about June 1. From June 1 on the total digestible nutrients (TDN) content will decrease about 1/2 per cent per day until the forage reaches maturity. At maturity, most pasture forages contain no more than 40-50 per cent TDN which is poor quality feed and must be supplemented with other feed to hold production.

The dairyman who feeds early "spring quality" pasture all summer must do a little pasture management planning now. It will pay dividends at the milk pail and reduce feed costs which means more profits.

Matter Of Balancing

Ration grazing, or giving the herd just the amount of pasture they can consume each day, is recommended. Don't limit forage intake by making the daily strip too small. Don't force the cows to eat the last coarse forage and weeds on each strip. It's profitable to allow the herd to just graze the lush part of the forage. Experience will tell you how large the daily grazing strip should be.

Grass silage is the safety valve. As soon as the pasture forage starts to mature (grasses start to head and legumes start to bloom) the pasture is ahead of your cows. When this happens, put the rest of the crop in the silo and start ration grazing all over again. Use the silage as pasture supplement when the cows get ahead of the second and third crops.

By this produced the dairyman has early "spring quality" pasture all summer.

Multiple Farrowing

Many Pennsylvania swine producers are looking to multiple farrowing as a means of increasing farm income without buying more land or building extensive new buildings.

Under a multiple farrowing system, a farmer farrows sows four or six times a year in the same facilities rather than the traditional twice a year. Multiple farrowing has several advantages over twice a year farrowing. They are: It allows more sows to be handled in the same facilities, thus reducing building costs per sow, provides more uniform income over the year, spreads the work load and allows the farmer to increase the size of his unit without greatly increasing his equipment cost.

However, multiple farrowing is not entirely a rosy picture. There are some disadvantages. Factors of management are much more critical; it is more important to keep on a farrowing and breeding schedule and the increased number of swine on the farm makes the control of disease a more difficult problem.

Farmers considering a large hog operation are urged to consider all the advantages and disadvantages before going into multiple farrowing.

Cattle are bothered by several species of flies and mosquitoes. These pesky insects often reduce milk production in dairy cows and are partially responsible for poor weight gains in beef animals.

For fly control methoxychlor 50 per cent wettable powder may be applied dry to all cattle. Sprinkle a heaping tablespoon of

ANNOUNCE NEW POWER MOWER

A new ride-on lawn mower, the Homelite Mower Car, was announced today by the Adams County Fruit Packing & Distributing Co., Inc., Biglerville, the local Homelite representative. It's a 26" rotary designed to include the performance features that home owner need for fast, easy lawn care.

According to an Adams County Fruit Packing & Distributing Co. official, "easy operation for every member of the family is one of the outstanding features of the new Homelite Mower Car. Homelite's new powerdrive transmission, with three forward speed ranges plus neutral and reverse, operates just like the automatic transmission of a modern car. You simply select the driving range and push on the gas pedal to go—release to stop. There are no gears to grind and no clutch to operate—it's all automatic. You can even change speed ranges while the mower is in motion. Press a little harder on the gas pedal and six-h.p. Homelite engine gives an additional burst of power for climbing extra-steep hills or cutting extra heavy weeds. Because the cutting blade speed is independent of travel speed, you always get optimum cutting power in any driving range.

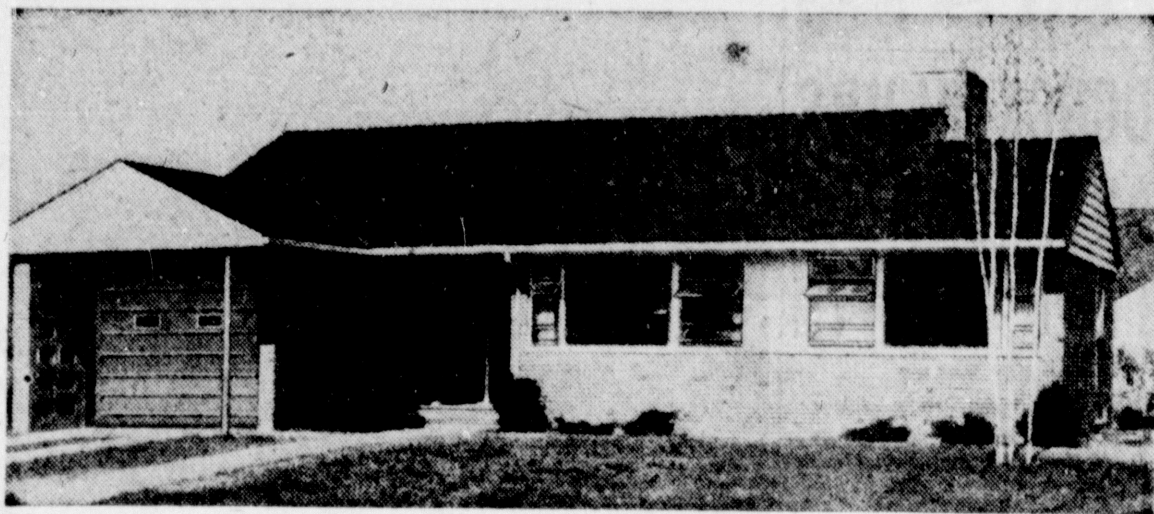

"Homelite's new Dualrac Drive system is another major performance feature. This drive system powers both rear wheels independently. If one wheel loses traction on mud or slippery, wet grass, power is automatically transferred to the wheel on firmer footing in either forward or reverse. Dualrac Drive also provides differential action to prevent a wheel from digging into lawns on tight turns. The Mower Car's pivoted front axle gives sure control on sharp turns and also more comfortable riding qualities."

powder around the base of horns, on the neck and over the back. Rub the powder lightly into the hair. Do not use sprays made with methoxychlor on dairy animals producing milk. Methoxychlor applied dry is safe to use and gives effective control of horn flies and mosquitoes.

Common oil base fly sprays containing .05 or .1 per cent pyrethrins or 3 to 5 per cent organic thioncyanate are also widely used on dairy cattle. Many commercial fly sprays also contain an insect repellent which increases their effectiveness. These formulations are commonly used as mist sprays at the rate of 1 to 2 ounces per animal in daily applications. Aerosols and space sprays will also give satisfactory control of flies when properly used. Aerosols, containing at least .5 per cent pyrethrins plus 5 per cent synergist, are most satisfactory for killing flies.

Spray concentrates containing 1 per cent pyrethrins and 10 per cent synergist can also be used for both space spray and on animals. Such concentrate is usually diluted 1 to 19 with water for use in compressed air sprayers and 1 to 9 for use in small electric fog generators.

Ranch House With Modern Accents

Rooms Five
Bedrooms Two
Closets Six
Cubage: 33,600 ft.
House 39' x 55'
Dimensions

One could well imagine this house in a Florida setting, but actually it's perfectly adapted to any climate. Featured as today's offering of the Home of the Week Plan Service, it's worth careful study for the promise of the fine, informal living it offers.

With awning windows flanking single, large picture panes, it is at once apparent that this home is light and cheerful. While roof overhang provides some protection from the elements, the awning windows insure ventilation without fear of rain damage.

Brick facing with stucco and some wood seems a good selection here, but the appearance of this ranch house can be varied considerably. Clapboards, shingles or brick could be substituted to please the individual taste. Also, the lattice-type garage projection could be changed, or, if economy is desired, a carport designed to lower costs.

Easy Living

For a five room house, the cubage of 33,600 feet is great enough to provide plenty of room for easy living. Six closets and just two bedrooms is a ratio that spells out convenience for both the housekeeper and members of the family.

The inside of the house is refreshingly different, especially in the treatment of the central area. From the front door, which is itself recessed, one steps into a vestibule and then a foyer. From this, a hall leads past the two bedrooms.

Chief value of this set-up is quietness and privacy in the sleeping area and protection against drafts in the living and dining rooms.

Cheerful Bedrooms

The two bedrooms run across the front of the house and measure 12 by 13 feet each. They feature extra wide windows which extend practically across one side of the room. To this cheerful note is added large closets and a linen closet just outside for easy servicing of rooms.

Entering the living room, one immediately spots the exceptional amount of window space. The fireplace is located rather unobtrusively at the end of the room. For the homemaker who likes to experiment with furniture arrangements, this room offers many possibilities.

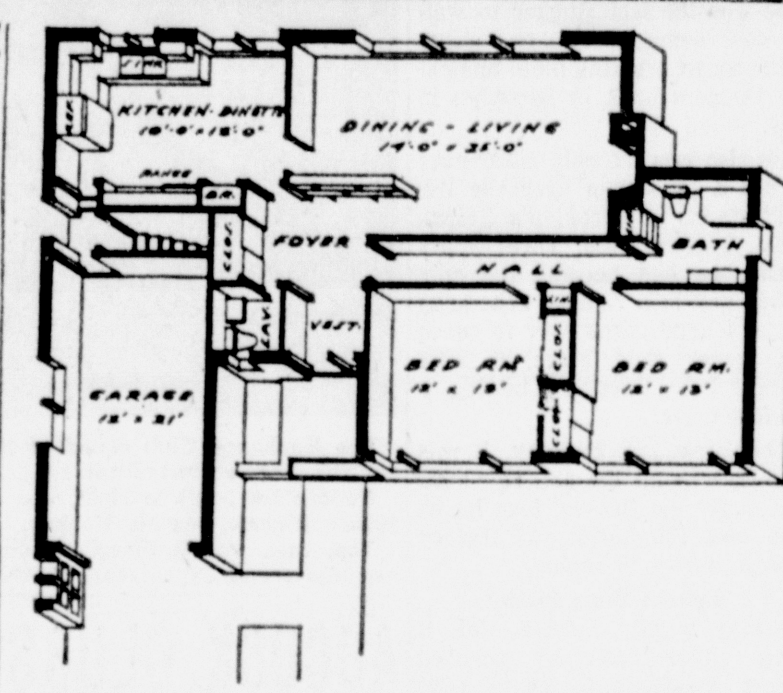

Fine Kitchen

The kitchen in the "Stewart" features an L-shaped work area and fine lighting for both the sink and dinette. If a dining area is desired in the living room, it's very simple to set it up near the kitchen.

Leading from the kitchen is a door to a small hallway. From here one can step outside, go to the basement or enter the garage. It's a well planned arrangement with the least possible inconvenience because of cold air or interference with an gathering. The plan of the "Stewart" is acceptable to the VA and FHA.

The Weeders Guide

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. (AP) — There has been very little written about garden etiquette and until recently there was really no need to say more than:

1. Return borrowed tools promptly and in the same condition they were received.

2. Never step on seeded areas or areas you think may be seeded.

3. Never give in to an impulse to pull weeds in someone else's garden without permission. Those little spears of grass may be the owner's prized miniature gladioli; that purslane may be portulaca; that Joe Pye-weed may be there by design rather than chance.

4. If you are a cigarette smoker, ask the groundskeeper what to do about the butts. Some gardeners prefer that you throw them on the ground to burn out to ashes; others ask that you split them horizontally scattering the tobacco and then crumple the paper into a tiny ball which will disappear into the grass.

A New Aspect
Etiquette's item four has a new aspect, however, which so far has defied solution. That is the increasing popularity of the filter cigarette. Filters don't burn out. If one opens them up, they make more of a mess than if left alone. And no smoker, as far as my observation goes, carries an ashtray with him. Nothing is uglier than a filter-butt-studded lawn. Receptacles may work when placed around a sitting area but you can't scatter enough of them around the garden to do much good. Best way of controlling the filter cigarette problem — and it may be a little rude — is to ostentatiously bend over and pick up a butt shortly after it is thrown.

There are so many outdoor chores to be undertaken now that one has little time for such unnecessary work as picking up cigarette butts. In most sections of the country the soil has warmed up sufficiently to set the seedlings into their permanent growing positions.

Soil And Roots
If the plants are going from a flat into the garden bed, take as much soil with the plant and its roots as possible. Keep the plant out of the ground the very shortest possible time. Put it into a hole large enough to accommodate the roots comfortably — and not all balled up. Use plenty of water, both to settle the soil around the roots and to help get the plant over the shock of movement. And cover the plant for a couple of days as it recovers.

Any plant dug up from its growing place suffers a certain amount of setback from the disturbance. If you are buying seedlings, it may be a bit more expensive, but invest in seedlings

Registrations Due June 1 For Homemakers Event At Pennsylvania State Univ.

By MRS. HELEN TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

All Adams County registrations for Extension Homemakers Week must be in the Agricultural Extension office by June 1.

Promptness in sending registrations will insure adequate housing and food service for this annual event June 15-18 at Pennsylvania State University. Accommodations may not be available for persons registering late.

All interested homemakers are invited.

Check Label

Read the label of a garment to determine whether or not it will shrink out of fit. Neither price, look, nor feel of a fabric give any true indication of shrinkage.

Many terms describe degrees of shrinkage. "Sanforized" means that a fabric will not shrink more than one per cent in either length or width. "Preshrunk" should be followed by a line telling how much a fabric will shrink. Often a label reads "Preshrunk—will not shrink more than one per cent."

"Shrink proof," "unshrinkable," "shrinkless," or "will not shrink" are inaccurate terms. Even a carefully processed garment may shrink a little, perhaps only a part of one per cent.

Determine Total

When buying a garment, multiply the shrinkage percentage given on the label by the number of inches in the garment. The result is the number of inches a garment may shrink. For example, a dress for a woman measured 50 inches long. One per cent shrinkage would change the length by a half inch.

Two per cent shrinkage would change the length an inch. This may make the dress slightly short-waisted, and it may need to be lengthened. Three per cent shrinkage would make a change of one and a half inches in the length of the dress. Alterations would be necessary.

Jam Making Easy

With modern recipes, a homemaker can make strawberry jam and preserves and other jellies, jams and preserves quickly and easily.

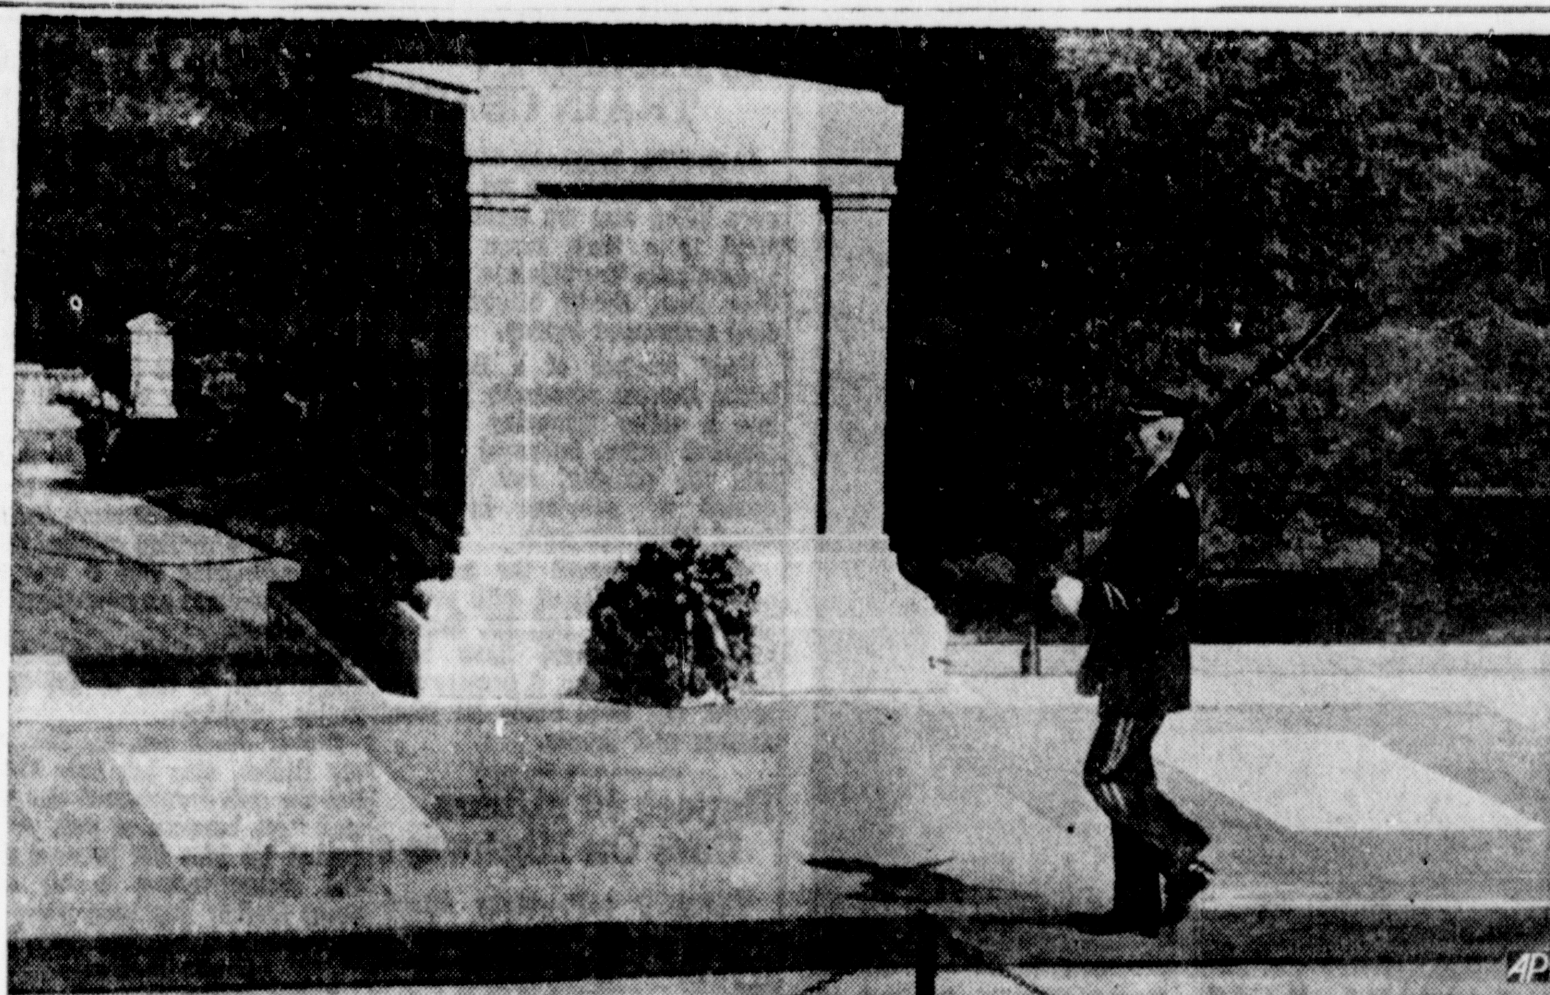

To make strawberry jam, combine four cups of crushed ripe strawberries (about two quart boxes) and seven cups of sugar in a pan. Boil the mixture hard for one minute stirring constantly. Remove from heat, and stir in one-half bottle of liquid pectin. Skim off any foam that forms. Let stand five minutes, then pour the mixture into clean jelly glasses, and cover with hot paraffin. Recipe makes about 10 six-ounce glasses.

To make strawberry preserves without commercial pectin arrange six cups of clean, chilled, ripe berries (about two quart boxes) and 4½ cups of sugar in layers in a pan. Let stand about eight hours or overnight in the refrigerator or other cool place. Then heat the mixture to boiling, stirring gently. Boil rapidly, stirring as necessary until syrup is somewhat thick and reaches a temperature of 220 degrees F. This will take about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from heat, skim off foam and pour into clean jelly glasses. Cover with hot paraffin. Recipe makes about four half pint jars.

For other jelly, jam and preserve recipes call or write Agricultural Extension Office, Court House, Gettysburg, for a free copy of Home and Garden Bulletin 56, "How To Make Jellies, Jams and Preserves At Home."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will remain in Washington on Memorial Day weekend. He has spent Memorial Day weekends in the past years on his farm in Gettysburg, Pa.

LONDON (AP)—The London News Chronicle claimed Friday that West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is using all his wiles in an attempt to talk President Eisenhower out of a summit meeting. The liberal newspaper, in a dispatch from Washington, said Adenauer is trying to convince the President that even an agreement on Berlin at the Geneva foreign ministers conference would not justify a meeting of the heads of government.

A NATION REMEMBERS—Sentry keeps the constant vigil at the tombs of unknown dead in Arlington Cemetery. Flanking the World War I Unknown Soldier are tombs of Korean War, left, and World War II unknown servicemen.

Convicted Killer Files Plea For Life

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The appeal of convicted killer Charles Starkweather for a writ of habeas corpus is on its way to the 8th District Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

Starkweather, 20, convicted in Lancaster County District Court and sentenced to death for the slaying of a school boy during a four-day rampage in January, 1958, is contending he was not adequately represented by counsel at his trial. He has been accused of 11 killings.

He was saved from death in the electric chair last Friday when Judge Richard Robinson, Omaha, presiding Nebraska federal District Court judge, gave him two weeks to appeal to the Circuit Court.

The pineapple originated in South America.

News Briefs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Twice in seven years Ruth Gwinn was attacked on darkened streets. She died Friday from injuries suffered in the last assault.

Police said the 57-year-old secretary was walking home early Thursday when a man sprang from behind a tree, hit her with a plank, dragged her into a parking lot and raped her. He fled when her screams aroused the neighborhood.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Rains measuring up to 3½ inches battered parts of West Texas Friday night, sending water over some roads and damaging crops.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An industrial relations expert says most workers are "not dissatisfied, only disinterested, in their unions." Members rarely want to participate in union affairs, Dr. Irving Bernstein told a House Labor subcommittee Friday. Bernstein is associate director of the UCLA Institute for Industrial Relations.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chen Ta, 38, thought he could outdistance his pursuers when he snatched a bundle of clothes from a laundry near Taipei.

But one man kept up the chase until Chen collapsed.

Lai Cheng-yi, 46, a former marathon champion, held him until a policeman arrived.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Crooner Vic Damone dropped a contempt of court charge he filed against his ex-wife, actress Pier Angeli, because:

"After thinking it over carefully, I felt it could cause only harm to my wife and son."

Miss Angeli flew out of the country April 14 with the couple's son, Perry, 3, in defiance of a court order obtained by Damone which forbade her to take the child out of California without his consent. She was last seen in Italy. The charge was dismissed in court.

JOHNSON CITY, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph Barbara Sr., ailing host to the Apalachin gangland convention in 1957, was seriously ill in a hospital today, suffering from another heart attack.

Barbara, 53, was stricken Friday at his present home in Endicott and was placed, unconscious, in an oxygen tent at Wilson Memorial Hospital here.

Barbara last suffered a heart attack in January 1957, 10 months before the gangland barbecue.

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Henry Krakat woke her husband Friday and said:

"There's an elephant in the backyard."

"That's nice. What color is it?" he mumbled.

The elephant was the usual gray and the usual size. It had wandered away from a circus the night before.

A trainer returned the elephant to the circus.

TOKYO (AP)—The Chinese Communist army's air force shot down a Nationalist Chinese bomber Friday near Yanping, Kwangtung province, South China, Peiping radio reported today.

Architect For American Pavilion At Brussels Is Poor Man's Philosopher

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Hal Boyle, the regular steward of this space, frequently turns poor man's philosopher and makes with homely observations on the passing show. In his absence—Hal is revisiting Europe—I take the liberty of introducing a substitute, sort of a Poor Man's Philosopher, in the person of one of America's foremost architects.

Edward Durrell Stone came to fame from Fayetteville, Ark., which he calls "the Athens of the Ozarks." In appearance, manner and mountain drawl, he greatly resembles the late Arkansas comedian, Bob Burns.

He built the American pavilion in the Brussels World's Fair last year, along with museums, embassies, industrial plants, private homes and other structures. His new medical center for Stanford University opens next fall. With financier Robert Dowling, he is currently working on a replanning project for downtown Akron, Ohio.

Assorted Opinions
Architects generally have pronounced views on subjects not closely related to cantilevers and free-flowing living space. Here is Edward Stone on some aspects of the American scene:

The American Male — "I think a woman's job is to rehabilitate not only the physical appearance of this country, but the male himself. She must get him out of a hula shirt and into a dinner jacket. At present, while she may be wearing a lovely, diaphanous frock, he looks like an unmade bed or a one-man slum."

Cities — "Politicians always say that if the opposition candidate is elected to office, grass will grow on Main street. Of course, this is exactly what should happen."

On Modernism
Modernism — "Don't be modern. Being modern simply consists of closing your mind to 2,500 years of Western culture and remaining content to copy the next-door neighbor's glass building, house, chair, drapery and poodle. I have two tests by which you can readily determine whether you are modern or not. If you prefer a bent chrome chair to a rocker, or a high-powered car to a horse-drawn carriage, you need therapy."

The Countryside — "Someone has said that in this era of prosperity and overabundance, we seem to be able to afford everything but beauty."

Highways — "All highways should be free of billboards and hamburger joints. All should be tree-lined. Recently, a high official of the automobile industry recommended that all trees should be cut down along the highways as a menace to motorists. Perhaps the industry could eliminate four feet of vulgarity from the length of the car and better spend the money creating destinations for motorists."

The American Home — "Twenty years ago we had living rooms of 20 by 30 feet. Now you can only tell a room from a closet by the hook strip on the wall." American Customs — "The current rage for informality in American life is a lame excuse for laziness. It is obviously easier to feed the children hamburgers in the back yard than it is to have them sit at a dinner table. This all stems from California which, by the way, Fred Allen said was a fine place if you were an orange." Creativeness — "If you are jealous of your ideas, it is a sign you have too few."

Ugly Conversion
Out-of-doors — "Long ago, the government made the farmer realize it is unprofitable to plow land down the hill and let it wash away. Laws protect our forests. But I know of no laws that prevent us from despoiling our beautiful physical heritage. We do everything rapidly in this country and I think that in 30 or 40 years we have converted it from the most beautiful country to one of the ugliest."

The American Woman — "H. L. Mencken said no man should ever make an important decision without first consulting his wife—simply because she is a creature of superior intelligence. There is nothing more terrifying to the male than a woman with a worthwhile cause."

Character — "Always keep a few character defects handy. People love to talk about your frailties. If you must be noble, keep it to yourself."

Once Wealthy Bud Abbott Is Broke, Idle, In Debt

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Bud Abbott, who made a fortune as straight man for the late Lou Costello, says he's playing a mirthless duo with the tax collector these days.

"The way it looks now, I'll be in debt until the day I die," the long-faced performer told newsmen Thursday.

He said he was broke, unemployed and far in tax arrears. He's selling his home to pay some of what he owes.

"No matter what I earn," Abbott said, "I still won't be able to get clear with the government. What's the use of working? They'll take everything."

Tax Penalties, Interest
Abbott said his financial troubles started three years ago when the government made a tax audit of the last seven years he and Costello worked together as a team.

"They looked into our capital gains deals and disallowed this and that," he said. "Then they slapped us with penalties, fines and interest."

109th Artillery, Wilkes-Barre; Lt. Col. Maurice A. Norcross, Lansdowne, First Howitzer Battalion, 106th Artillery, Philadelphia; Lt. Col. J. Frank Cook, Grove City, First Howitzer Battalion, 229th Artillery, New Castle.

Jaj William G. Mitchell, Johnstown, Second Tank Battalion, 103d Armor, Johnstown; Maj. Floyd C. Jones, Franklin, 28th Division Transportation Battalion, Butler; Lt. Col. Robert W. Croneweth, Pittsburgh, 28th Division Signal Battalion, Pittsburgh.

185 KILLED IN TRAIN CRASH

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Unconfirmed reports say 185 persons were killed and 200 seriously injured in a train crash in the mountainous Tasikmalaja area of West Java. Health Ministry officials announced Friday.

Four coaches of a Bandung-bound express reportedly plunged into a valley Thursday after a coupling broke. Informed sources said the accident was believed caused by sabotage by rebel Darul Islam elements.

The area where the accident occurred is infested with rebels. Doctors, nurses and 2½ tons of medical equipment have been flown to the scene. A countrywide appeal has been made for more doctors and nurses.

Expect 40 Million Cars On Highways

CHICAGO (AP)—Many Americans today got away to an early start on the Memorial Day weekend.

The first holiday of the warm season will draw millions of city folks to resorts, beaches and other out-of-doors spots and will bring droves of rural residents to cities for baseball games, shows and other recreation.

The National Safety Council estimates that 40 million automobiles will roll along streets and highways.

It estimates that traffic accidents may cause 260 deaths and 10,000 disabling injuries.

Increase Price Of Cigarettes Monday

HARRISBURG (AP)—An extra penny-a-pack tax on cigarettes goes into effect at 12:01 a.m. Monday to finance payment of the state bonus for Korean War veterans.

Charles M. Dougherty, secretary of revenue, advised cigarette smokers not to pay the extra cent of tax until after the deadline. The total state tax on cigarettes will be six cents a pack.

The extra penny will bring in 25 million dollars every two years and is designed to pay off the 150 million dollar bonus in 12 years.

Made Millions
The balding comedian said he had "no idea — not at all" how many millions he made during the Abbott-Costello "who's on first?" heyday.

Costello died March 3 and left an estate of $200,000—as much as he often earned from a single movie. His widow said Costello had settled his tax matters before his death.

How did Abbott get in permanent heck to Lou Sam?

"I don't know," he replied. "I didn't make any bad investments. I lived conservatively—well, conservative for show biz. You know how it is, I ran open bar, 24 hours a day at my recreation room, when Lou and me were on top."

"Funny thing—I must have had 5,000 friends, all dropping in for movies and a swim in the pool and free drinks."

"Not a one of them around now," he sighed. "And I don't even own the recreation room or the pool any more."

He shook his head and asked: "Where in the world did it all go?"

DULLES LEAVES LARGE ESTATE TO HIS WIDOW

NEW YORK (AP)—John Foster Dulles has left the bulk of his estate to his widow in his will filed Thursday in Surrogate's Court.

The former secretary of state, who died of cancer May 24, made specific bequests of more than a quarter of a million dollars. However, associates said it was too early to attempt an estimate of his total estate.

Under the will the estate eventually goes to two of the three Dulles' children.

Dulles' Jesuit son, the Rev. Avery Dulles, was left only $5,000. But the will emphasized that this was "not because of lack of affection for him but because special circumstances in his case make further provision seem inappropriate and unnecessary."

Estate In Trust
Before Dulles entered government service, he was in the law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell here.

The will, dated July 25, 1958, bequeathed personal property, household effects and the bulk of his estate in trust to the widow, Mrs. Janet Avery Dulles.

Upon her death, income from half the trust goes to a daughter, Mrs. Lillian Dulles Henshaw of New York, who also received $10,000 outright.

The other half goes outright to Dulles' other son, John Watson Dulles, who receives an additional $100,000 under the will.

Dulles also bequeathed $10,000 to his alma mater, Princeton University, where he graduated in 1908.

Army Working On New Flying Saucer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is working on a new flying saucer it's pretty enthusiastic about. It's called the Avrocar.

It's one of a whole family of vehicles developed around the ground cushion effect. They rise a few inches or feet from the ground on downward blasts of air.

The new one rises at least 30 to 100 feet, and the Army hopes to use it in place of some of its land vehicles such as light troop carrier trucks and light or medium tanks.

Shapely Blonde Ex-School Teacher Stripper For Club

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A shapely blonde junior high school teacher who quit teaching because a school official criticized her dress, turned up today as a featured stripper in a burlesque night club.

Needless to say, she resigned her teaching job before she turned peeler. Her hometown is Minneapolis. Her real name is Patricia Ann Carruthers and she says she was graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1956.

But at the El Rancho Club in Los Angeles, she unveils nightly under the name of Patti White. She says she made the name change in order not to embarrass the suburban school where she taught until last October.

"Kids Loved It"
She said she chuckled teaching when one official kept riding her about the way she dressed.

"Everything I did was wrong," she said. "Either my dresses were too tight or too revealing. I couldn't even wear long earrings without criticism. The kids all loved the way I dressed but one day this official said: 'Do you realize what you are doing to these junior high school boys?'"

"I decided then that I couldn't be myself any more if I stayed in teaching. So I quit."

"I never really wanted to be a teacher anyway," she told a reporter. "I've always wanted to be an actress."

No Papers To Correct
She said she sought acting work, but jobs were scarce. Finally her agent got her a job at the night club as a nude — The models who just stand on the stage, as nude as the law allows.

"Then, a few weeks ago," she said, "the manager handed me a g-string and told me to go out there and strip."

"I do everything on impulse. Before I knew it, I was out there. I never dreamed that I ever could — but there I was."

"I still blush when I perform," she said. "Does she prefer burlesque to teaching school?"

"It beats getting up at 6 a.m. And no one criticizes my dress. And there are no papers to correct."

Full-Scale Reenactment Of Battle Of Manassas Will Be Given In July

MANASSAS, Va. — A full-scale re-enactment of the first battle of Manassas or Bull Run, initial major engagement of the Civil War, has been decided on and will be staged with a grand review and authentic mock portrayal of action scenes of a century ago.

The decision to relive this important engagement of the war period was reached at a meeting of responsible officials and committees at the headquarters of the Manassas National Battlefield Park near here. The program is scheduled for July 20-21, 1961.

"This is one of the greatest strides made to date in our plans to bring about a suitable, nationwide observance of the centennial," commented Karl S. Betts, executive director of the National Civil War Centennial Commission.

The action came as the governor's office at Richmond reported favorable response to invitations to other states to participate in the re-enactment.

"It is our desire," wrote Governor J. Lindsay Almond Jr., "that each of the 23 states involved in that first great battle of the war will be represented by a contingent of men dressed in copies of contemporary uniforms of the regiments of their states."

These invitations were sent to 12 states in the North and to 11 in the South. Already 16 of these have responded, either accepting or promising to bring the matter to prompt consideration as soon as proper committees and organizations could be consulted.

"We certainly do want to cooperate and participate in this very important event," wrote Governor Earl K. Long of Louisiana in a typical response.

Pennsylvania Agrees Governor David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania replied that he was asking his adjutant general to make preliminary preparation "so that Pennsylvania will be represented."

States To Cooperate

The action came as the governor's office at Richmond reported favorable response to invitations to other states to participate in the re-enactment.

POLICE SEIZE FRANKIE CARBO In Theft Of Pesos From Yank

BERLIN, N.J. (AP)—New York and New Jersey authorities today seized alleged underworld boxing king Frankie Carbo in a private home in nearby Haddon Twp.

State Police Lt. Harry C. Armano said Carbo was seized as he attempted to flee out the back door about 12:45 a.m. He was taken to the Berlin state police barracks.

Also seized in the home and taken into custody were Alfred Cori, 26, brother-in-law of Frank (Blinky) Palermo, a former fight manager and close associate of Carbo's.

Armano said that the house was owned by a man identified as William Ritzka, who was not at home at the time. Armano added that state police had no background on Ritzka.

Asked who tipped the authorities off on Carbo, Armano said: "The Justice Department in Washington." He did not elaborate.

The 54-year-old Carbo had been a fugitive from a 10-count indictment returned last July 24 by a New York County grand jury charging him with acting as an underworld boxing manager and matchmaker. He also has been sought on federal tax evasion charges. He was charged with being a fugitive from justice.

sented."

Pennsylvania had the largest number of North regiments in the battle—27. New York was second with 19. On the Southern side, Virginia led with 18, followed by South Carolina with six.

The last re-enactment of the battle took place in the 1930's. At that time an estimated crowd of 30,000 persons gathered on the rolling hills of the battlefield to watch National Guardsmen and cadets from nearby military schools re-stage the hostilities of July 21, 1861. With the change in mode of transportation of the last 20 years and the importance of the centennial occasion, officials are preparing for attendance of at least 100,000.

Are Studying Battle

Gathered at today's meeting were representatives of the Defense Department, Interior Department, National Civil War Centennial Commission, Virginia Civil War Commission, Prince William County Chamber of Commerce and the town of Manassas.

Preliminary study of troop movements and troop placement already have been started by the Defense Department in cooperation with the National Park Service.

"We want this re-enactment to have every semblance of authenticity," said Francis F. Wilshin, superintendent of the battlefield park. "It is our desire for eyewitnesses to get the feel of the battle as their grandfathers fought it, to take in the kaleidoscopic panorama of uniform colors against the green of the rolling hills, to go away with a clear understanding of how the contest waged back and forth before it finally ended in a victory for the South."

Plan Accommodations

Officials now are working on plans to provide suitable accommodations for the immense crowds expected to be on hand. Every detail for their entertainment and their understanding of the battle will be arranged. Loudspeakers will be set up to cover every area of the battlefield involved in the action. In addition to the grand review and re-enactment, dances and other social activity will be included in the program.

"We visualize this occasion as more than just a Manassas affair," said R. Jackson Ratcliffe, chairman of the local committee in charge of plans. "We see it as something for all of Northern Virginia and the surrounding area to take part in. We plan to ask for the cooperation of the District of Columbia and all adjacent Virginia counties. The Battle of Manassas was the first major engagement of the war. We hope to make it a suitable 'first' in the centennial program."

APACHE JUNCTION, Ariz. (AP)—Dr. Ambrose Lansing, 67, noted anthropologist, died Thursday at his desert home near Apache Junction.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Police sought a former soldier in the Castro rebel army today for questioning in the multimillion Cuban pesos robbery of an American woman here.

The Cuban, Alfonso Arnoldo Acosta Meza, slipped through a police network thrown up on all major highways, airports and exit points from Mexico. Sources said Acosta Meza, a pilot, may have flown to Cuba in a private plane. Marilyn Kay Thal, Miami Beach, Fla., identified Acosta Meza as one of three Cubans who robbed her of 3,676,500 Cuban pesos Thursday night on a street.

Just before the holdup police got an anonymous tip about operations of an international ring of smugglers.

Black Market Conversion

Police said the money had been brought to Mexico for black market conversion at a rate of 36 cents a peso, or $1,356,300. Although the peso's purchasing power in Cuba is pegged at the official rate of $1, it is almost impossible to get pesos converted in Cuba.

Ex-Cuban President Fulgencio Batista and his followers were accused of sending millions of pesos abroad just before collapse of his regime Jan. 1.

Mrs. Thal, daughter of Miami Beach real estate dealer Sam Kay, suffered a minor flesh wound from a bullet fired during the robbery.

She said the money came from the father's sale of the Biltmore Terrace Hotel in Miami Beach last month and the pesos were brought here to sell at a more favorable exchange rate than could be obtained in the United States.

Confirm Story

In Miami, Kay confirmed his daughter's story. He said the pesos were "legitimate" and came from a Cuban combine that bought the hotel.

Kay, 67, was one of several persons the Dominican Republic's military intelligence accused of plotting to sneak Batista into the United States. Batista is now in the Dominican Republic.

Police said a letter signed "Nosy Yankee" tipped off Florida internal revenue agents 11 days ago that a fortune in Cuban pesos was flown to Mexico after sale of the Biltmore Terrace Hotel.

The letter said the sender was notifying authorities because of the loss in taxes to the U.S. government.

PILOT BAILS

15,000 FEET; MINOR HURTS

HAYS, Kan. (AP)—An Air Force pilot parachuted 15,000 feet Friday night through hail and turbulent winds and escaped with only face and neck bruises.

Mr. Robert A. Stewart, 27, Belton, Mo., bailed out of his F102 jet interceptor aircraft shortly after his engine flamed out at 42,000 feet.

"I was pretty lucky I guess," Stewart said. "That hail was buffeting me around when I was coming down like I was in the middle of a swarm of golf balls."

He landed three miles west of Hays and was picked up by a farmer, Lee Schnatterly, who took him to a hospital.

Tossed By Tornado

Stewart said he thought his plane was tossed around by a tornado. There were numerous unconfirmed reports of funnels throughout the area.

Wind velocity was believed to have ranged from 85 to 150 miles an hour.

Stewart guided his aircraft through the storm to 15,000 feet before hitting the ejection button. He was on a training flight with two other aircraft out of Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base near Kansas City, Mo. The other aircraft became separated in the storm. One landed at Salina, Kan., and the other at Albuquerque, N.M.

STIFF STORM

MOVING INLAND

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Tropical storm Arlene dawdling in the Gulf of Mexico, had its 50-mile-an-hour winds aimed at the sparsely settled western Louisiana coast early today.

The center of the season's first tropical disturbance was expected to move inland with the heaviest squalls lashing the central coastal area.

It was first headed for the Louisiana coastline below New Orleans. But it changed directions Friday afternoon and veered toward Lake Charles, in the south-west corner of Louisiana. Later, it got on its course.

Despite a change of mind about its destination, residents of the Lake Charles-Cameron area were taking precautionary measures. They still have vivid memories of Hurricane Audrey, which smashed through their area June 27, 1957.

Audrey took more than 500 lives and caused property damage almost beyond estimate.

Deny Strauss Is

Willing To Leave

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House has denied a published report that Lewis L. Strauss has offered to resign as nominee for secretary of commerce.

The copyrighted report by the New York Daily News also said that President Eisenhower promptly rejected the offer, telling Strauss:

"I'll fight this out if it takes to the end of my administration."

But James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, issued a denial Friday night.

Strauss, who barely won approval of the Senate Commerce Committee, is expected to face strong opposition when his nomination reaches the floor of the Senate.
